Liberated

PVT. ALFRED H. GALLER

PVT. ALFRED H. GALLER HAS BEEN LIBERATED

Pvt. Alfred H. Galler, United States Army, has been liberated from a prisoner of war camp in Japan.

In a letter to his mother, Mrs. Frank Galler of 813 South 4th Street in Temple, Pvt. Galler whose home is at Buckholts, told his mother of his liberation after 39 months held a prisoner by the Japs.

Pvt. Galler was taken prisoner by the Japs when the Fortress of Corregidor fell in the Philippine islands.

Pvt. Galler writes that he is well and feeling great, and "you don't know what it means to be a free man again." Pvt. Galler has gained full freedom and visits town each day and is enjoying life.

He enlisted in the Cavalry on November 14, 1941, and after his training was sent to the Philippines and was there when the Japs attacked Pearl Harbor and drew the United States into the war

Pvt. Galler is now waiting his transportation to come home. While he was held a prisoner he received only a few letters from home. When liberated he received all his mail. During the 39 months he was held a prisoner, his mother received only a few cards from him, the last of these cards being received 15 months ago.

The letter telling of his liberation was written on the reverse side of a letter received from his aunt and the envelope was from a letter received from a cousin, both residing in Port Arthur.

Pvt. Galler was liberated from a prisoner of war camp near Mudken in Manchuria.

Mrs. Robert Jungmann of Buckholts, sister of Pvt. Galler, brought the news of his liberation to The Herald early Tuesday.

Since Pvt. Galler has been held a prisoner his father, Frank Galler has died. It was not known whether Pvt. Galler knows of his father's death but it is presumed he does because of the recent letters he has received.

Pvt. Galler has two brothers, both in Germany. They are S-Sgt. Fritz Galler and S-Sgt. Weldon Galler. Both are expected home in the near future.

Henry Walker S1-C Serves in Pacific

SOMEWHERE IN THE WESTERN PACIFIC—Henry Leffel Walked, seaman first class, USNR, Rt. 3, Rockdale, is a member of the crew of the USS Weehawken who recently found ten Japs among the seashells on a captured Pacific island where the sailors had landed for a few hours of relaxation.

The crew had just sampled their precious rations of stateside beer when they heard the yells of a wandering shell picker who had spotted a Jap in one of the many caves along the shore. The ships shore patrol quickly took over and approached the cave with .45 caliber pistols. The Japs hesitated at first, but after a few shots they straggled out.

CHARLES A. WALZEL FUNERAL HERE FRIDAY

Funeral services were held at 4 p. m. Friday for Charles Anton Walzel, 55, who died at his home in Cameron at 6 p. m. Thursday, September 13, 1945.

Mr. Walzel had been ill for several months and for the past two years or more had been in declining health, frequently being a patient in the hospital.

Born at Yoakum, Texas, in 1890, he came to Cameron when a young man and had lived here most of his life. He was a colorful figure and at one time was active in politics, though he never held a public office other than Public Weigher. He was a brother of the late Tony Walzel, merchant who died some years ago.

Mr. Walzel had many friends. His nature was friendly and he looked upon life with zest and good cheer. In recent years he had not been very active, but saw much of life about him. Many friends here were genuinely in sorrow over his passing.

Surviving are his widow, and one son, Sgt Carl Franklin Walzel, in the army overseas, and one daughter, Enid Walzel of San Antonio.

Funeral services were held at 4 p. m. Friday, September 14, 1945, from the Green Funeral Chapel with interment in Oak Hill Cemetery.

Mrs. Lincoln Barber, Jr., and son Lincoln III are in Jacksonville to attend the funeral of Mrs. Barber's brother in law, Flight Officer, Lee Stedman, Jr., who was killed Tuesday night at San Antonio in a plane crash. Flight Officer Stedman was 20 years old, and was the husband of the former Ann Barber of Jacksonville.

The Elm Ridge school will begin the 1945 term on Monday, September 24, with Mrs. J. C. Cauthen and Miss Nora Duncum as teachers.

August Hubnik of Buckholts was a business visitor in Cameron this week.

Killed In Action

PFC. WILLIAM M. WORCESTER

PFC. BILL WORCESTER IS KILLED IN GERMANY

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Worcester have received the following letter from Chaplain Albert J. DuBois relating how their son, Pfc. William M. Worcester, lost his life in action against the Germans:

Dear Mrs. Worcester:

As the Protestant Chaplain who officiated at the burial services for Pfc. William M. Worcester, 38026690, Company M 411th Infantry Regiment, I send you this personal word of sympathy in your time of great sorrow and loss. I well know that there is little that I can say to ease the pain that is yours and there is a loss in your home and heart that cannot be changed by this letter, but I want you to have the assurance of my prayers together with the certainty that you were very much in my thoughts as I held the service.

Our battalion was acting as a motorized task force in the pursuit of the last disorganized elements of the German Army—Bill's "jeep" and another one from his platoon were acting as motorized scouts and points for the battalion—Lt. Coleman, Bill's platoon leader, was in the "jeep" with Bill manning the machine gun mounted on the vehicle. Being scout is a dangerous, but highly important job—that has to be done. Both Bill and Lt. Coleman were fully aware of this, but they did the job with all of the daring and courage that could be asked of anyone. When they were entering a small German town a self propelled 88M|M gun opened upon them at point blank range. The second round was a direct hit on their "jeep" wounding Lt. Coleman and killing Bill before anyone could get to him. It all happened so fast that they didn't have a chance to take cover. William was killed in action on the field of battle in Germany on 25 April 1945.

For Bill's part in this action he was awarded the Silver Star Medal—This is a rather high award for gallantry in action and was more than earned—of course, this and the Purple Heart Medal that goes with all battle wounds will be small compensation for you and your son.

Unfortunately, all of Bill's friends except the first Sgt. and Motor Sgt. have been transferred and we don't have their addresses at present. Enclosed you will find the addresses of the men in the ocmpany that knew Bill and Lt. Coleman's address. Lt. Coleman is now in the States as he lost a leg when Bill was killed.

Mrs. J. C. Jones of Buffalo is visiting in the home of J. H. Angell of Cameron.

THOMAS E. MALONE BURIED AT LIBERTY

Thomas Edwin Malone died at his home in the Liberty community, at 3:00 p. m. Sunday, July 28, 1945.

Mr. Malone was born on January 7, 1873, in McLennan county. He was the son of the late Thomas and Sarah E. Malone. His mother died in Milam county at the age of 90 years.

Mr. Malone came to Milam county with his mother when he was nine years old, and had made his home here until his death. In 1900 he was married to Mattie Malissa Miller.

Mr. Malone was a good husband and neighbor. He lived a sincere Christian life, and had endeared himself to all who had the good fortune of knowing him.

Among his survivors are his widow, one brother, George Malone and a host of nieces and nephews.

Funeral services were conducted by Rev. C. W. Sanders, pastor of the First Baptist Church in Cameron, at the Liberty Church. Burial was made in the Liberty cemetery.

Pallbearers were his nephews: Walter, Eric and Odie Malone, Ray and Curtis Miller, and Odie Mills.

Maj. Charles Beacham With Group Who Observed "Salerno Day"

Some 1,700 men of the 36th (Texas) Infantry Division, which has had the third highest casualties of any American division in any theatre, celebrated the second anniversary of its landing on the bloody beaches of Salerno in Germany, Sunday then climbed into a convoy of trucks destined for an embarkation port.

During "Salerno Day" ceremonies, the unofficial word was out that the 36th would soon be placed in category four for redeployment to the United States and return to its Camp Bowie, Texas, base.

Men of the first American division to touch European soil in World War 2 marched in review before Lt. Gen. Geoffrey Keyes, 7th Army Commander then came speeches, church services and entertainment.

Ip an address to the Texas men, Keyes traced the 36th from North Africa to V-E Day.

The 36th's Commander, Brig. Gen. Robert Stock of Schenectady, N. Y. introduced Keyes, who took the salute in the absence of General Eisenhower. General "Ike" sent his regards because he was scheduled to be in Berlin.

Carrying the battle standards hallowed in Texas history, including the flag of the Alamo the units marched in review while the entire gathering stood at attention when the band played the Texas state song. The flag of the republic of Texas flew beside the Stars and Stripes on the reviewing stand.

Among the mass of men wearing the "T-Arrow" patch, Texans were actually in the minority, as most are already home as high point men or casualties buried in Europe soil or resting in hospitals.

The 36th Division has suffered nearly 28,000 casualties, and it is estimated that 90 per cent of the division now is made up of replacements.

Scarcely more than 100 officers and men remain with the division from the original group which came overseas with the unit, Maj. Charles Beacham of San Antonio, estimated. Maj. Beacham is writing a history of some of the division units.

Major Beacham is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Beacham of Cameron.

CALDWELL IS BRINGING GOOD TEAM

The Yoemen will open the home game schedule here Friday night against the Caldwell Hornets.

Coach Leo Jackson said early Thursday that the Yoemen had come out of the game against Marlin without injuries and this week have shown improvement and the spirit was never better. The Yoemen won their first game of the season 25 to 0 the highest score by which any club in District 31-A won their first pre-season game.

In the Marlin game the Yoemen at times looked like veterans but the opposition was not strong. It will be vastly different in conference play.

Caldwell is bringing a large number of men to the Yoemen stadium Friday night. Coach Geo. C. Fall notes on his roster that the first team will average 149 pounds while his backfield will average 137 pounds. The line average is 159 pounds.

In the old days the Cameron-Caldwell game was a great sports spectacle. It always called for a special train. Caldwell had the first great high school band in this section of Texas. Later the school declined and for several years the town had no band. In late years Caldwell has had few good football teams.

There is little advance information on which a prediction can be made about the game here Friday. On the face of things it looks like a Yoemen victory 18 to 6.

Fans here will turn out in greater numbers. It is not only the opening game of the home season but some 700 souvenir programs will be distributed. These programs are illustrated and are made possible by advertising from business men. The program contains 32 pages and was off the Herald press at noon Thursday.

Yoemen Take Opening Game at Marlin 25-0

T. J. O'NEILL PACES TEAM MATES TO WIN

With a ground game that made them look like veterans and an occasional pass offense that forecasts thinks to come, coupled with great line play the Yoemen got away to a brilliant start Friday night defeating Marlin 25 to 0.

T. J. O'Neill, quarterback, set the stands wild in the second and third quarters with brilliant runs, sweeping the Bulldog ends and piling up yardage when it meant pay dirt. T. J. weighs only 140 pounds. He looks like the mighty mite of the 1945 squad and it is no secret Coach Jackson looks confident when he points out that this little back has two more years.

It was a non district, meant nothing in conference rating but was a tonic for both Yoemen and fans. There was a delightful nip in the night air as the lights, late coming, flooded the field and the Yoemen filed out of their big grey and maroon bus to trot on the field in brand new uniforms They looked efficient and were soon to prove it. The new uniforms are impressive, a bit hard to follow for fans, their dark jerseys obscuring somewhat the grey numbers. Khaki pants with maroon stripes and white headgear complete the ensemble.

After a slow start things began to happen. Both teams were nervous. Cameron was in a tight spot down on their own 15 when they lost the ball on a fumble, but took over on the 18 when the Bulldogs lost yardage and failed to gain. Cameron scored twice in the second quarter and it was 12 to 0 at the half. Both scores were made by T. J. O'Neill and were set up by beautifully executed plays as the scat back swept around the Marlin left end. O'Neill with brilliant down field blocking clopped off 40 yards in a gallop that drove to the Marlin five yard line and on the next play he drove across for the score. Pete Kunz who looks like the best tee off artist in the district failed to convert. The Yoemen got the ball a few moments later when the Bulldogs had to punt and here came T. J. again. This time it was 60 yards and he scored going away fast from everything the Bulldogs could muster.

The third touchdown was a brilliant climax to a ground game that clicked to make the Yoemen look like vettrans. J. Marek running from the Leo Jackson T raced away for 15 yards and around the Marlin right end to score standing up. This touchdown was set up on a series of smashing line plays in which the ever present Jimmy O'Neill played a part. Pete Kunz kicked his only extra point of the game and it was 19 to 0.

In the fourth quarter Lawrence Michalka who looked good on forward passes found Joe Hawkins, right end in the end zone as the Bulldog line was crossed up and pulled in. Hawkins, fast as lighting took the pass and scampered across looking very good.

That was the end of the scoring. It was 25 to 0. The Yoemen never had to punt but kept the Bulldogs struggling with the problem of getting the ball out a number of times.

Pete Kunz and R. Price at tackle positions turned in a whale of a game each, as did Salach and Wallis at guard positions. Alvin Gerick 160 pound end promises much.

The program did not bear the numbers of the men and it was difficult to clock the game. In the future all Yoemen will get the spotlight.

Cameron's 60 piece band under Francis Cox gave the stands a big thrill at the half. The Marlin band was not in uniform.

Era Mae Foster of Austin spent the week end with her parents in Cameron.

Sgt. Charles E. Gray spent the week end with his wife and son. He is stationed at Fort Sam Houston.

Buckholts Sailor On Cruiser

ON THE CRUISER LOUISVILLE IN THE PACIFIC—Glen O. Mitcham, Seaman Second Class, USNR, Rt. 2, Buckholts, was at his station on this ship when news of the final capitulation of the Japanese was announced over the loud speaker in mid-afternoon, August 14.

It wasn't a riotous reception with which the crew greeted the news. The feeling was rather one of relief, because the tension had been so great in the closing days of the war.

Following the announcement, Capt. Rex L. Hicks, Commanding Officer, of 4000 Cathedral Ave., Washington, D. C., addressed the crew, explaining that the war would not be over for the Navy until every Japanese soldier and Naval unit had ceased hostilities.

"Gosh, I wish I were back in the old hometown, I'll bet they're really tearing the place to pieces," was the reaction of nearly everyone aboard.

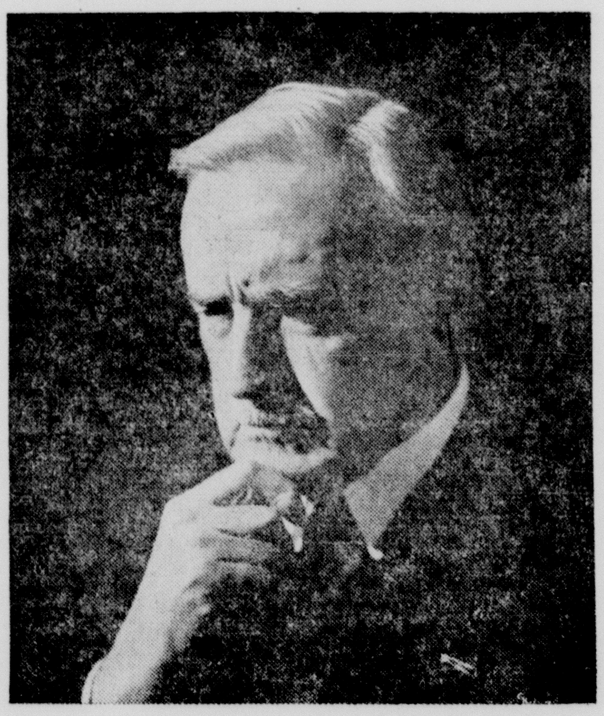
YOU CAN'T RECAPTURE Time



TIME slips away faster than we think. All too soon too many yesterdays have passed for us to accomplish all the things we intended one day to do . . . things like buying a home, starting a business of our own . . . or creating a savings program to protect our loved ones should something happen to us!

Mr. D. W. knew that time was slipping away from him, all too fast. And he knew he could never recapture any part of it. He had neither the income nor the time required for the average plan to create the protection he so earnestly wanted his family to have. But he learned how he might accomplish his desire, with limited income and limited time, through Southwestern Life Insurance.

Fortunately, he was insurable. Fortunately, his wife and children will tell you, he invested in a Southwestern Life Insurance policy—a nominal contract on his life for $2,984. But for that fact, his family might have faced some serious readjustment difficulties, for death claimed Mr. D. W. last year, not quite three years after he had entered the agreement with Southwestern Life to pay his loved ones $2,984 should something unforeseen happen to him.

Time slips away faster than we think. Tomorrow, the unforeseen may alter or destroy all your plans. Now, while you may, set your savings program in motion through Southwestern Life Insurance. There is a Southwestern Life plan to fit your needs . . . a plan that you can create immediately on savings you can afford to save out of income. Get an insurance analysis of those needs today. The economy of the plan will please you.

Look to ADMIRATION for Perfection
Admiration is richer, better-tasting, and more aromatic because it's blended to be that way. Only choice, expensive coffees are used—to begin with. That makes a big difference both in blending and the kind of cup you get when you brew it. Special roasting brings out all the goodness of the blend, and more important still, gives it a lasting freshness. Vacuum processing of course preserves the coffee. Thus each cup you drink of Admiration tastes exactly as it was designed to taste—wonderful, truly wonderful!

Songs and Thrills At "Western Show"

The hum of whizzing bullets furnishes the distinctive flavor of most outdoor dramas, but "Springtime in Texas," which opens at the Milam theatre, gains mellowness in entertainment values with the added singing of its star, Jimmy Wakely.

This second in the new Monogram Wakely series finds Jimmy and his saddle buddies, Dennis Moore and Lee "Lasses" White, involved in an election campaign in a Western town. The boys aren't running for office, but take it upon themselves to clear the community of its crooked politicians, when the honest candidate for mayor is murdered while they are trying to defend him against abusive remarks of the opposition. With suspicion placed on Jimmy and his pals, the trio set out to remove the shadow of guilt from their names, as well as bring law and order to the town. The film winds to a bang-up climax that has Wakely and sidekicks fighting off the desperate desperadoes.

Meals high in starches and sugars or in fats help offset the effect of cold weather on body temperature and on the coordination of nerves and muscles, it was found in experiments. Tests of the effects of diet at temperatures 20 degrees below zero were made with 12 volunteer human "guinea pigs." Eating three small meals at two-hour intervals during an eight-hour exposure to intense cold instead of one large meal during the period was found to increase the benefit of the diets. The decrease in body temperature due to the cold was reduced by two-thirds, in other words, the men were only one-third as cold by actual measurement, with the best diet of three high-fat meals as compared to one high-protein meal. The difference was noted in both internal and surface body temperature.

Kabul Is Least Known Of the World Capitals

Kabul is the remote, mountain-girt, mile-high capital of Afghanistan. It lies on the Kabul river, about 100 miles west of Khyber pass, chief traffic channel from India into Afghanistan, and scene of many border brushes between hill tribes and British Tommies, says the National Geographic society.

Fear has operated to make Kabul one of the least known of the world's capital cities. Its people have held themselves aloof for safety, have never forgot that they took to the hills to escape enemies roaming over the plains. No main commercial or tourist routes passed through Kabul. Visitors found no welcome. The ban was temporarily lifted in 1931 when the Citroen-Haardt Trans-Asia expedition, in which the National Geographic society cooperated, cut through Afghanistan on its way from Syria to China by motor cars.

Isolation was contradicted in recent years by the increasing evidence of modern ways of living. Kabul has electric lights from a water-power plant, telephones, automobiles, machine shops, munitions works. Factories turn out soap, shoes and cloth. Tanneries are a local pride. Industrial growth has been supervised by British experts. Prewar population wa sestimated at about 120,000, with a sprinkling of foreigners, including a few Americans.

Washing Blankets

Part-wool blankets, which may vary in wool content from 5 to 75 per cent, are washed exactly as all wool blankets are. The binding, if it is particularly dirty, should be scrubbed first with a soft brush and an alkali-free soap, and all soiled spots are removed in the same way.

The blankets should then be washed in lukewarm water and a heavy suds of mild soap, using a squeezing or suction action. Rubbing will cause felting and shrinking. If you wash blankets in an electric washer, three minutes will be sufficient time to remove the soil. When blankets are very soiled, washing in a second clean suds and lukewarm water is necessary.

Rinse the blankets thoroughly in several waters of the same temperature as that of the wash water. Soap left in the blanket injures the fiber and encourages further soiling.

Vacuum Cleaner Brushes

Keep all brushes of the vacuum cleaner free from hair and threads. When these collect they keep the brush from sweeping and cleaning as it should. Be sure the brush that turns round inside the nozzle has bristles long enough to sweep the rug. These bristles wear down in time, and the brushes or the roll needs to be lowered.

Protective Food

Eggs rate as a "protective" food because they are an important source of vitamins and minerals in human nutrition. Egg yolk is one of the best sources of vitamin A, a factor in which many diets are low, and the protein in eggs is of high quality. These qualities are all maintained in intermediate grades of eggs.

How women and girls may get wanted relief from functional periodic pain

Cardui is a liquid medicine which many women say has brought relief from the cramp-like agony and nervous strain of functional periodic distress. Here's how it may help:

1 Taken like a tonic, it should stimulate appetite, aid digestion,* thus help build resistance for the "time" to come.

2 Started 3 days before "your time", it should help relieve pain due to purely functional periodic causes.

Try Cardui. If it helps, you'll be glad you did.

Vaccines from Eggs

Half a million American hens are now laying eggs to be "half hatched" for conversion into vaccines to fight typhus and influenza. Owners of these specially selected birds get 15 cents a dozen more than for ordinary eggs because of numerous, exacting requirements. For instance, only white eggs are used, thus making detection of contaminating dirt on the shells easier. Also, to promote essential cleanliness and reduce nest breakage, eggs are collected oftener for shipment in trucks heated to maintain incubation temperature. At the laboratory, the embryo is "needled" with the virus inoculation through an aperture in the air-cell end of the egg. The break in the shell is sealed, and the egg returned to the incubator. The virus multiplies and the desired antigen, as well as the infectious material, is produced in the embryo. The infectious qualities are destroyed by chemical treatment before the vaccine is refined.

Tankless Heaters

Many improvements have been made in recent years in the operation of water heaters of the tankless type used in connection with the hot water or steam boiler which heats the house. Among the advantages of tankless heaters are said to be the saving of space, fuel economy in that there is no heat loss from a tank, and elimination of the maintenance expense of a hot water tank. The house heating boiler is used to heat the domestic water the year around, summer as well as winter. The water is heated in non-corroding copper coils submerged in hot water direct from the heating system boiler, circulating through an enduring cast iron body. Tankless water heaters are made in a wide range of sizes. Thousands are already in use today and many new homes to be built after victory will use this economical method of heating domestic water the year around.

Mighty Peak

Mt. Hood, lifting its hoary head 11,245 feet above sea level, is the highest point in Oregon and queen of the many snow-clad peaks of the verdant, forest-clad Cascade mountains.

Watching like a sentinel over the Columbia river gorge, Mt. Hood is virtually in Portland's back door and is a year around playgound, free and accessible to all. A paved highway leads around the shoulders of the mountain, and combined with the Columbia river highway through the Columbia gorge to Hood river forms the Mt. Hood Loop.

Below its perpetual snow line are deep forests, lakes and streams, alpine meadows abloom with exotic flowers. Pack trails make for delightful summer horseback or hiking trips. The ascent to the summit is not difficult in summer for those of normal health and experienced guides are available for climbing parties.

Steel Identified

Many "forging quality" steels having different physical properties are required for forgings used by industry and by the army and navy. Each grade of steel for forgings is identified by a color in the forge shop steel storage.

Eatead Wear

Clothing specialists offer these suggestions to make a woolen coat or suit wear longer: Give it a brush off in the air. Brush woolen clothes often, in the direction of the grain of the cloth, inside and out, and in and around pockets and cuffs. Hang woolen clothes outdoors when weather permits. Hang clothes straight on hangers—zip plackets and button the top buttons. If you do not have a trouser hanger or wooden hanger with a cross bar on it, fold a piece of heavy cardboard over a wire hanger to hold the crease in trousers. Regular cleaning before clothes become badly soiled lengthens wear. Before pressing clothes at home, remove spots—a warm iron may "set" them so they will never come out. Steam press with a moderately hot iron, too hot an iron may scorch even through a pressing cloth.

Body Fuel

Sugar is a food used solely to supply body fuel. Containing no protein, minerals and vitamins, it should be used sparingly to prevent a shortage of these substances in the diet. Molasses is a valuable food because of its richness in calcium and iron. Sugar cane syrup is similar in food value to molasses although not as concentrated. Sorghum syrup is a rich source of calcium and iron. Honey is a concentrated sweet with only traces of mineral value which are of little importance.

Urge Precaution to Avoid Color Changes in Fabrics

Atmospheric gas fading is the term used to describe color changes that sometimes take place in acetate rayon fabrics.

Contrary to popular belief, fumes from a gas stove are not the only causes of atmospheric gas fading. Acid gases which cause fading are found in the atmosphere in the average home or store, in almost every location, summer or winter. The fading may even occur while the dress is hung safely away in a closet.

It has been found that paper, felt, wool and camphor all tend to accelerate gas fading. Therefore don't cover acetate rayon clothes with paper protectors or hang them in paper garment bags. Use cloth covers and garment bags instead. Never hang them next to wool dresses in the closet, and when you store acetate rayons, see that fumes from camphor, mothballs or flakes can't get to them.

To minimize gas fading in washable clothes containing acetate rayon, give them a final rinse in a solution of washing soda. Use a heaping teaspoonful of washing soda to a quart of lukewarm (wrist temperature) water. Use this rinse every time you wash an acetate rayon dress and before you store it.

Don't let your desire to acquire outdo your desire to enjoy.

Andy Botkin has a hobby

Andy Botkin, tavern keeper at the Garden Cafe, has a hobby. It's writing to all the service men who used to make his place a sort of club.

And do they appreciate it! One of them sent him a German combat helmet; another, a Jap flag. He's got pictures and coins and souvenirs of all kinds on the wall—mementos with "To Andy" written on them.

And he showed me the letters that he's got back ... from homesick privates to reminiscent colonels. Letters about home and Main Street and the Garden Cafe ... from men who remember listening to football scores on Andy's radio, sharing a mild glass of beer with friends ...

From where I sit, Andy's doing a one-man job of boosting morale. Andy's spotless tavern, with its decent, homelike surroundings, is doing a job on the home front, too ... in promoting moderation and wholesome relaxation.

"WHERE'S THE MEAT?"

Everybody wants meat—but few get it. The enormous demand, points out The March of Time in "Where's The Meat?", has resulted in the growth of a black market, fed by such illegal practices as planning a cattle rustling raid, shown above . . . The cattle sale—on paper—is legal. But paying five hundred dollars for a puppy is one way of getting around ceiling prices. Especially when the dog comes back! . . . A butcher's thumb is meat—but only on the scales. Some housewives are glad to overlook such flagrant practices, feeling the children must have meat . . . But there are legal ways to cope with the shortage, such as this woman's method. Families or groups of individuals may buy beef on the hoof, without points, and store it in quick-freezing lockers for future use.

CAMERON ATHLETIC COUNCIL DISSOLVED

The following statement was issued Monday by the Cameron School Board and brought to The Herald by Chas. E. Allday, secretary of the board:

The Cameron Athletic Council was dissolved by the school board at its regular meeting on Thursday night, September 13th

This action by the school board followed receipt of a letter from F. G. Blake, president of the council, by George Childress, president of the school board, stating that the members of the council had voted unanimously to request the school board to disolve it. Mr. Blake's letter stated that the members of the athletic council wanted to resign at the close of the last school term but had not done to at the request of several members of the school board. Since then, Mr. Blake said, it had been learned that the new sperintendent and coach had never worked with an athletic council and preferred to set up their own athletic program in the school. The members of the council pledged their full support to the school in all its future athletic programs.

In a letter to Mr. Blake, advising him of the action of the board on the athletic council's request, the school board expressed their appreciation to the members of the council for their efforts in helping the school carry on its athletic program in the past, and thanked them for their pledge of future co-operation.

...YOUR ELECTRICAL APPLIANCES

American women know the time and labor-saving value of modern electrical appliances. Today these household helps are doubly treasured and proper care and use of these appliances are necessary to prolong their usefulness until new ones are available. Even with the end of the war at hand, getting back to full, peacetime production of electric refrigerators, washing machines, sweepers, and the many other time and labor-saving appliances will take time. So give your present appliances the care they deserve.

Here are a few hints to help you keep them working:

- KEEP THEM SERVICED ... Oil them regularly as prescribed by the manufacturer; keep them properly adjusted, and when repairs are needed ... take them to a competent repairman.
- KEEP THEM CLEAN ... Keep surface clean with damp cloth to prevent rust. Do not dip motors and heating appliances in water. Wash lamp bulbs and reflector bowls regularly to assure maximum efficiency of lighting.
- KEEP THEM IN USE ... They are your most dependable helpers ... will give you more time for the "thousand and one" things women are being called upon to do during these busy times.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERVICES

"Matter" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, September 23.

The Golden Text is: "I have declared, and have saved, and I have shewed, when there was no strange god among you: therefore ye are my witnesses saith the Lord, that I am God" (Isaiah 43:12.)

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: 'And Jesus knowing their thoughts said, Wherefore think ye evil in your hearts? For whether is easier, to say, Thy sins be forgiven thee; or to say, Arlse, and walk?" ((Matthew 9:4, 5.)

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbeek, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Consciousness constructs a better body when faith in matter has been conquered. Correct material belief by spiritual understanding, and Spirit will form you anew."

Deadly Disease Destroys Elm Trees in Midwest

The deadly disease of elms, phloem necrosis, the USDA reports, is destroying fine shade trees in many cities and attacking native growths in the country in parts of the midwest. It has been known for many years but has attracted wide notice only in the last two or three years. The department's research administration says phloem necrosis is not related to the Dutch elm disease, carried by the elm bark beetle, but that it Rills trees much more quickly and in the Midwest is more to be feared because the way it spreads has not been discovered. However, it is now known to be a virus disease.

The disease has gone as far west as Kansas, as far east as West Virginia, and as far south as Mississippi. In general, it has not spread north of the 40th parallel except in certain river valleys in which it is known to have advanced 15 to 20 miles north of that line. Peoria, on the Illinois river, is the farthest north known for the phloem disease. Specialists believe that it existed in the region long before its first definitely known appearance in Ohio in 1918.

So far, the pathologists have found that the disease attacks the American elm and its varieties, the Moline, vase and holly-leaf, but the Siberian elm and the English elm are not known to be affected. When an elm has phloem necrosis the leaves turn yellow and drop. The tree may die within a few weeks or may live a year or more. No tree has ever been known to recover from it.

Plan Closet as Orderly Storage Place for Family

Closets may be the forgotten corners of the modern home. Instead of using them as a disorderly catch-all for clothing, shoes, and varied equipment, plan them to provide enough storage-space as well as charm and attractiveness.

If two persons must use the same closet. it should contain a separate rod for each one's clothes. The two rods should run from the front to the back of the closet, one on either side of the door. Set the rods at least 63 inches from the floor, so that clothing will not drag. This arrangement of rods makes it easy to reach the shelf across the back of the closet. Shoes can be kept orderly and within easy reach in a shoe bag or on shoe racks on the closet door.

If the family engages in winter sports, provide room for outdoor clothing, heavy shoes and equipment. Mittens will be easy to find if they are kept in a box on the closet shelf. Keep formal evening wear in a garment bag. An electric light in the closet makes it easy to find things.

Lyrical Miracle

So amazing, so different, so wonderful, so new it is being acclaimed the lyrical miracle of all time, "Where Do We Go From Here?" 20th Century-Fox's hilarious, song-studded Technicolor hit starring Fred MacMurray, Joan Leslie and June Haver, opens Thursday at the Cameron Theatre.

Utterly unusual and delightfully different, "Where Do We Go From Here?" presents MacMurray as a frustrated and frantic fellow who in search of love—is led a mad and merry chase through the centuries by joyous Joan and luscious June.
